

HAND BUILD WITH SLABS
Workshop with Lori Rosen

Saturday, August 11th, 2018 — 10AM - 3PM

Lori Rosen was born in Brooklyn, went to Parsons School of Design in NYC, and currently lives in Sound Beach, Long Island. She creates one of a kind hand made ceramic sculptures that she sells at fine arts and crafts shows all around the Tri-state area.

Artist's Statement:

Each one of my handcrafted pieces has a unique identity. I begin by shaping a thin slab of clay with a drop mold and let the personality emerge as I paddle, carve, and glaze the developing pottery. To enhance the natural element of my art, I often include driftwood that I find on Long Island beaches.

What to bring:

Bring your favorite tools, rolling pin if you have one, a tree branch or driftwood, and a box to take your piece home.

$50 per person (Lunch included)
